

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.
Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody, without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician know of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

Physicians Recommend Castoria.
"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results."
W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.
"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments."
F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.
"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice, found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."
Wm. J. McCRACKEN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.
"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine."
N. B. STEIN, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

PLAN PERMANENT FLORAL PARADE ORGANIZATION AND ALL-YEAR WORK

That the Mid-Pacific carnival and floral parade will henceforth be a permanent organization, established upon a firm business basis, was practically decided upon yesterday afternoon when the members of the promotion committee met in the rooms of the chamber of commerce and appointed a committee composed of all former director-generals which will suggest financial methods and devise plans for carrying on all future festivities.

Besides the members of the promotion committee, five former director-generals were present at the meeting, they being: Fred C. Smith, T. H. Peleie, Arthur F. Wall, Harold Dillingham and Charles F. Chillingworth. These, with Walter F. Dillingham and A. Garley, Jr., will compose the organizing committee, and will hold a meeting soon after the return of W. F. Dillingham during the middle of this month. That $10,000 be subscribed by the community as a preliminary fund was proposed by Chairman Waldman, who further stated that all propositions relating to celebration should be based on the effort to make them self-supporting. He also proposed that the permanent committee be composed of trustees to handle the fund which shall be a revolving fund. The former director-generals who were present all were in favor of such a proposal, and were of the opinion that the funds should be raised in advance of the celebration in order that the future director-generals would have ample time to make the necessary appropriations for the several features. Harold Dillingham urged upon the committee not to omit the floral parade feature, but to make it as prominent as possible.

That the entire carnival week should be under the entire control of this committee was another important matter of business which was taken up. Public sentiment, it was stated, would favor this plan, and that the public would co-operate with the committee and that of the Elks on the proposed new basis of action. It has not been decided as yet as to just what form the financial basis will assume. It is expected, however, that the newly-appointed committee will in course of time devise some plan of action that the public will receive an invitation to contribute.

MAUI'S WINTER GARDEN FETE A GREAT SUCCESS

[Star-Bulletin Staff Correspondence]

The Winter Garden given for the benefit of the Waialua Union church last Friday and Saturday evenings was said by those who attended to be the best performance ever given on Maui. In fact the island has been able to talk about nothing else in the way of a show since the affair came off.

Mrs. L. F. Jones had charge and accomplished what has never been previously accomplished on this island in getting the first night all sold within two weeks of the advertisement. There were only 130 seats for sale, and when the last was sold, there was such a demand that the hall could have been sold over again. The arrangement was most satisfactory. Tables to the number of thirty were placed in the Town Hall with four or five chairs at each. Mrs. W. A. McKay was chairman of the committee in charge of the decorations and the work was done in her usual most artistic fashion. The hall looked like a veritable garden. The tables were small and when last with white covers and decorated with roses made a most attractive appearance. Bamboo, ferns and potted plants made the stage one of the prettiest ever seen in Waialua. The second night no tables were set, and the chairs were packed as closely as possible so that a large audience was seated. Many purchased tickets for both nights, and those who could not get reservations for Friday were present in force for the Saturday performance.

When Westcott of Puunene was stage manager and he was a perfect one. The "Twenty Minutes in Italy" was one of the prettiest things ever seen on Maui. Mrs. Selden B. Kingsbury and Mrs. Louise Chisholm Jones took the principal parts in the singing and dancing, done by the ladies, while George Weight and Kenney Smith were splendid in the men's parts. The audience would give the performers of this scene no rest until they had repeated their parts several times.

W. Leslie West was decidedly good in his Scotch monologues. His costume could hardly be improved upon and his recitations were exceedingly funny.

The Colonial Fantasia given by twelve little girls in Colonial costume was very pretty indeed and called forth loud applause. The children were all under nine years, and several were between four and six. This part of the program was under the direction of Miss Sue Starkweather, the kindergarten of the Alexander Settlement.

The musical act was very well done by Miss Caroline Scholtz and Mr. Robinson of Paia. Their voices were excellent, and the act was much enjoyed.

Messrs R. Rattray and Kenney Smith took the part of "Pink Ladies" and brought the house down.

W. S. Chillingworth and Jee Me-shado were the serenaders who did some excellent playing for Mrs. Jones who was serenaded. She sang two pretty Spanish songs and for the second encore a little song in English that suited the scene. The stage effects in this act were as pretty as on a professional stage and delighted the audience.

The last act was entitled "Popular Song" and was sung by Miss W. Weight whose clear and sweet voice took the part well. The little daughters of Edmund Hart did the "ragging" that was necessary in the latter part of the song. They could hardly get off the stage at all, and were repeatedly called back by the enthusiasm of the spectators. Miss Mary Hoffman played an accompaniment in her usual pleasing manner. "The best show that was ever given on Maui" was the unanimous opinion of the large audiences present both nights. The comment was certainly justified, for the performance from the standpoint of variety and excellent work done under Mrs. Jones' direction, was as good as anything seen by the professional actors who have in the last two years frequently visited this island.

The refreshment committee of the Women's Aid Society was composed of Mrs. C. J. Schoonmaker, Miss Lorenna Merriam, Mrs. Enos Vincent and Mrs. V. A. Vellesen. The proceeds will net nearly $300.00, and will be de-

CLEWS STRIKES ALARM KEYNOTE

Mingling words of hope for the best with strong invective against the "freakish" manifestations in the political world—only a few tidbits of which can be afforded space here—Henry Clews of New York, in his special letter of March 22, says in part:

"Discouraging developments continue to prevent any recovery in the stock market. This can only be attributed to the outcropping of further unfavorable features which had not been anticipated. At bottom lies the disturbed condition of finances in Europe resulting from the Balkan war. The strain upon European financial centers was passed on to New York, and this center had to bear its full share of that burden. As a result, we have already exported $45,000,000 gold. Our banking reserves are practically exhausted. . . . The delay in the Union Pacific dissolution is a serious disappointment in banking circles and emphasizes the difficulties which many of our large corporations have to meet in going through the dissolving process for adjustment of requirements of the government. The Easter holidays also naturally induced a sharp contraction in stock exchange transactions, since a great deal may happen either in Europe or at home in the three days between the 20th and 24th instants. A further decline in New Haven, formerly one of the very best securities, has added to the general depression. . . ."

"General trade is still active as a result of back orders, but there is a marked hesitation in many lines of business in the placing of new orders. For this the tariff is partly responsible, because no distributor or manufacturer is likely to stock up with merchandise at present prices, if the latter are to be lowered by tariff reductions. . . . Three important failures occurred in the dry goods trade last week. These were generally unexpected and were precipitated mainly by the changed conditions in the money market which tend to check expansion and bring weak spots to the surface. . . ."

"Referring to the uncertainty of political action, Mr. Clews says: 'Slowly but surely confidence is being undermined by this condition of affairs, and business leaders are keeping a close eye upon Washington to ascertain how far our political leaders will go in the direction of fomenting distrust. It is high time that our lawmakers should come back to reason. The country has had altogether too much political hysteria; too much persecution of big business; too much law making; too much government interference in industrial problems that would better settle themselves without interference. . . . But the chief obstacle is the unreasonable and hostile attitude of public opinion to nearly all classes of business enterprise, which if not checked will drive capital into hiding and throw many out of employment. . . . Both congress and administration at Washington have it largely in their power to aid in restoration of normal business and political conditions. Now is the time to test the promise 'not to disturb business.' . . ."

"As previously stated in these advice, many big class securities are selling at exceedingly attractive prices from an investment point of view. There is little or no inflation in the stock market, which is technically in a sound position, and gilt-edged securities ought to be a purchase upon any sharp recessions. But for the time being, and while general conditions remain so unsettled, we advise prudence and caution in buying. The money and credit situations are unsatisfactory; and the cure may be nothing less than enforced contraction. . . ."

voted to the financial needs of the Waialua Union church. The church people decided to give something in the line of a concert, because other churches on Maui give fairs and bazaars as annual affairs. Maui certainly showed its appreciation of a good concert by its hearty patronage.
